67E No execution against Territory

Part X—Criminal jurisdiction

Division 1—Application of laws

68 Jurisdiction of State and Territory courts in criminal cases

- (1) The laws of a State or Territory respecting the arrest and custody of offenders or persons charged with offences, and the procedure for:
 - (a) their summary conviction; and
 - (b) their examination and commitment for trial on indictment; and
 - (c) their trial and conviction on indictment; and
 - (d) the hearing and determination of appeals arising out of any such trial or conviction or out of any proceedings connected therewith;

and for holding accused persons to bail, shall, subject to this section, apply and be applied so far as they are applicable to persons who are charged with offences against the laws of the Commonwealth in respect of whom jurisdiction is conferred on the several courts of that State or Territory by this section.

- (2) The several Courts of a State or Territory exercising jurisdiction with respect to:
 - (a) the summary conviction; or
 - (b) the examination and commitment for trial on indictment; or
 - (c) the trial and conviction on indictment;of offenders or persons charged with offences against the laws of the State or Territory, and with respect to the hearing and determination of appeals arising out of any such trial or conviction or out of any proceedings connected therewith, shall, subject to this section and to section 80 of the Constitution, have the like jurisdiction with respect to persons who are charged with offences against the laws of the Commonwealth.

- (4) The several Courts of a State or Territory exercising the jurisdiction conferred upon them by this section shall, upon application being made in that behalf, have power to order, upon such terms as they think fit, that any information laid before them in respect of an offence against the laws of the Commonwealth shall be amended so as to remove any defect either in form or substance contained in that information.

- (5) Subject to subsection (5A):
- (a) the jurisdiction conferred on a court of a State or Territory by subsection (2) in relation to the summary conviction of persons charged with offences against the laws of the Commonwealth; and
 - (b) the jurisdiction conferred on a court of a State or Territory by virtue of subsection (7) in relation to the conviction and sentencing of persons charged with offences against the laws of the Commonwealth in accordance with a provision of the law of that State or Territory of the kind referred to in subsection (7);

is conferred notwithstanding any limits as to locality of the jurisdiction of that court under the law of that State or Territory.

- (5A) A court of a State on which jurisdiction in relation to the summary conviction of persons charged with offences against the laws of the Commonwealth is conferred by subsection (2) may, where it is satisfied that it is appropriate to do so, having regard to all the circumstances, including the public interest, decline to exercise that jurisdiction in relation to an offence against a law of the Commonwealth committed in another State.

- (5B) In subsection (5A), State includes Territory.

- (5C) The jurisdiction conferred on a court of a State or Territory by subsection (2) in relation to:
- (a) the examination and commitment for trial on indictment; and
 - (b) the trial and conviction on indictment;
- of persons charged with offences against the laws of the Commonwealth, being offences committed elsewhere than in a State or Territory (including offences in, over or under any area of the seas that is not part of a State or Territory), is conferred notwithstanding any limits as to locality of the jurisdiction of that court under the law of that State or Territory.

- (6) Where a person who has committed, or is suspected of having committed, an offence against a law of the Commonwealth, whether in a State or Territory or elsewhere, is found within an area of waters in respect of which sovereignty is vested in the

Section 68

Crown in right of the Commonwealth, he or she may be arrested in respect of the offence in accordance with the provisions of the law of any State or Territory that would be applicable to the arrest of the offender in that State or Territory in respect of such an offence committed in that State or Territory, and may be brought in custody into any State or Territory and there dealt with in like manner as if he or she had been arrested in that State or Territory.

- (7) The procedure referred to in subsection (1) and the jurisdiction referred to in subsection (2) shall be deemed to include procedure and jurisdiction in accordance with provisions of a law of a State or Territory under which a person who, in proceedings before a court of summary jurisdiction, pleads guilty to a charge for which he or she could be prosecuted on indictment may be committed to a court having jurisdiction to try offences on indictment to be sentenced or otherwise dealt with without being tried in that court, and the reference in subsections (1) and (2) to any such trial or conviction shall be read as including any conviction or sentencing in accordance with any such provisions.
- (8) Except as otherwise specifically provided by an Act passed after the commencement of this subsection, a person may be dealt with in accordance with provisions of the kind referred to in subsection (7) notwithstanding that, apart from this section, the offence would be required to be prosecuted on indictment, or would be required to be prosecuted either summarily or on indictment.
- (9) Where a law of a State or Territory of the kind referred to in subsection (7) refers to indictable offences, that reference shall, for the purposes of the application of the provisions of the law in accordance with that subsection, be read as including a reference to an offence against a law of the Commonwealth that may be prosecuted on indictment.
- (10) Where, in accordance with a procedure of the kind referred to in subsection (7), a person is to be sentenced by a court having jurisdiction to try offences on indictment, that person shall, for the purpose of ascertaining the sentence that may be imposed, be deemed to have been prosecuted and convicted on indictment in that court.

- (11) Nothing in this section excludes or limits any power of arrest conferred by, or any jurisdiction vested or conferred by, any other law, including an Act passed before the commencement of this subsection.

68A Committals jurisdiction if both Federal Court of Australia and State or Territory court have jurisdiction in relation to indictable offence

- (1) This section applies if both:
- (a) the Federal Court of Australia; and
 - (b) a court of a State or Territory (the superior State or Territory court);
- have jurisdiction to try a person on indictment for an indictable offence against a law of the Commonwealth (the indictable offence).

Working out which court the person should be committed to

- (2) If a court of the State or Territory (the State or Territory committals court) has, under subsection 68(2), jurisdiction with respect to the examination and commitment for trial on indictment of a person who is charged with the indictable offence, the court may, in exercising that jurisdiction:
- (a) commit the person for trial on indictment for the offence before either:
 - (i) the Federal Court of Australia; or
 - (ii) the superior State or Territory court; or
 - (b) if the person pleads guilty to the offence, commit the person for sentencing for the offence by either:
 - (i) the Federal Court of Australia; or
 - (ii) the superior State or Territory court.

This subsection has effect subject to subsections (3) and (4).

Note: Paragraph (2)(b) refers to committal for sentencing. For the power of the State or Territory committal court to commit for sentencing, see subsection 68(7).

- (3) Despite subsection 68(1), if:
- (a) a person is charged with the indictable offence; and
 - (b) at the end of the proceedings before the State or Territory committals court, the State or Territory committals court proposes to make an order (the committal order) that the person be committed for trial on indictment, or for sentencing, for the indictable offence;

Section 68A

the State or Territory committals court must invite the Director of Public Prosecutions to suggest the court before which the person is to be tried or sentenced.

Note: The State or Territory committals court must make this invitation even if the Director of Public Prosecutions is not a party to the committal proceedings.

- (4) When making the committal order, the State or Territory committals court must consider specifying the court suggested by the Director of Public Prosecutions as the court before which the person is to be tried or sentenced.

Committal court may grant bail to person to appear before Federal Court

- (5) If the committal order relating to the person specifies the Federal Court of Australia, then a power of the State or Territory committals court:
- (a) that is conferred by a law applying under subsection 68(1) in relation to indictable offences against the laws of the Commonwealth; and
 - (b) that enables the State or Territory committals court to grant bail to persons accused of such offences to appear before the superior State or Territory court if committed for trial, or for sentencing, before the superior State or Territory court;
- applies as if the power included the power to grant bail to the first-mentioned person to appear before the Federal Court of Australia.

Note: Appeals or reviews of the exercise of this power will be dealt with under the laws of the State or Territory applying under subsection 68(1). However, bail will be dealt with under Part VIB of the Federal Court of Australia Act 1976 once indictable primary proceedings (within the meaning of that Act) commence for the person.

If question about person's fitness to be tried

- (6) Subsection 20B(1) of the Crimes Act 1914 applies as if the reference in that subsection to the court to which the proceedings would have been referred had the person been committed for trial were a reference to a court to which the proceedings could have been referred had the person been committed for trial.

Note: This means the committal court may choose whether to refer a question of the person's fitness to be tried to either the Federal Court of Australia or the superior State or Territory court.

68B Application of State and Territory laws if Federal Court of Australia and State or Territory court both have jurisdiction in relation to an offence

- (1) To avoid doubt:
 - (a) subsection 68(1) applies to a person:
 - (i) who is charged with an offence against a law of the Commonwealth; and
 - (ii) in respect of whom jurisdiction is conferred on a court of a State or Territory by section 68; even if jurisdiction in relation to that person and that offence is also conferred on the Federal Court of Australia by another law of the Commonwealth; and
 - (b) subsection 68(1) applies to the person and the offence in relation to:
 - (i) any proceedings in relation to the offence that are brought before a court of the State or Territory; and
 - (ii) any proceedings in relation to the offence that are brought before the Federal Court of Australia.
- (2) Paragraph (1)(b) has effect subject to section 68C.

68C Adjustments to State and Territory laws applying to proceedings before Federal Court of Australia

- (1) This section applies if:
 - (a) an offence referred to in subsection 68(1) is an indictable offence; and
 - (b) the Federal Court of Australia (the Federal Court) has jurisdiction to try a person on indictment for the offence; and
 - (c) proceedings commence in the Federal Court in relation to the offence that are:
 - (i) indictable primary proceedings (within the meaning of the Federal Court of Australia Act 1976) (primary proceedings); or

Section 68C

- (ii) criminal appeal proceedings (within the meaning of that Act) that relate to primary proceedings; or
- (iii) proceedings under section 30CA of that Act that relate to primary proceedings; or
- (iv) proceedings under section 30CB of that Act that relate to primary proceedings; or
- (v) proceedings referred to the Federal Court under section 20B of the Crimes Act 1914 (as that section applies because of subsection 68A(6)).

The State or Territory in which trial proceedings must be heard

- (2) If the proceedings are primary proceedings that:
- (a) are to include either the person, the prosecutor or both appearing before the Federal Court in accordance with an order of a court of a State or Territory committing the person for trial on indictment before the Court for the offence; or
 - (b) if paragraph (a) does not apply—include the filing in the Federal Court, in a State or Territory, of an indictment against the person for the offence;

the Federal Court must hear the proceedings in that State or Territory unless and until the Federal Court makes an order under subsection (3).

Note: The place in which any other proceedings are to be heard is a matter for the Court.

- (3) If the proceedings are covered by subsection (2), the Federal Court may, before the jury is empanelled for the trial, make an order specifying the State or Territory in which the Federal Court will hear the proceedings.
- (4) Subsections (2) and (3) have effect subject to section 80 of the Constitution and sections 70 and 70A.

Which State's or Territory's laws are to apply?

- (3) Nothing in subsection (1) affects the power under subsection 6(2D) of the Director of Public Prosecutions Act 1983 of the Director of Public Prosecutions.

Division 3—Appeals

72 Reservation of points of law

(1) This section applies if a person is indicted before a Court, other than:

- (a) the Federal Court of Australia; or
- (b) the Supreme Court of a Territory (other than the Australian Capital Territory or the Northern Territory);

for an indictable offence against a law of the Commonwealth.

(1A) The Court (the trial court) before which the person is tried:

- (a) must, if an application is made by or on behalf of the person before the jury delivers its verdict on a count in the indictment in relation to the person; and
- (b) may in its discretion (either before or after judgment without such an application);

reserve a question of law, in relation to that count, which arises on the trial for the consideration of:

- (c) a Full Court of the High Court; or
- (d) a Full Court of the Supreme Court of the same State or Territory as the trial court.

(2) If the accused person is convicted, and a question of law has been so reserved before judgment, the Court before which he or she was tried may either pronounce judgment on the conviction and respite execution of the judgment, or postpone the judgment until the question has been considered and decided, and may either commit the person convicted to prison or admit him or her to bail on recognizance with or without sureties, and in such sum as the Court thinks fit, conditioned to appear at such time and place as the Court directs and to render himself or herself in execution or to receive judgment as the case may be.

(3) The presiding judge is thereupon required to state in a case signed by him or her the question of law so reserved with the special circumstances upon which it arose, and if it be reserved for the High Court the case shall be transmitted to the Registry of the High Court.

73 Hearing

Any question so reserved shall be heard and determined after argument by and on behalf of the Crown and the convicted person or persons if they desire that the question shall be argued, and the Court may:

- (2) If the convicted person is in custody, the proper officer of the Court by which the question reserved was determined shall also forthwith transmit another certificate of the same tenor under his or her hand and the seal of the Court to the superintendent of the prison or other person who has the custody of the convicted person. The certificate shall be a sufficient warrant to all persons for the execution of the judgment if it is certified to have been affirmed or as it is certified to be amended, and execution shall thereupon be executed upon the judgment as affirmed or amended: And if the judgment is set aside or arrested the certificate shall be a sufficient warrant for the discharge of the convicted person from further imprisonment under that judgment, and in that case the superintendent is required forthwith to discharge him or her from imprisonment under that judgment, and if he or she is at large on bail the recognizance of bail shall be vacated at the next criminal sitting of the Court in which the trial was had: And if that Court is directed to pronounce judgment, judgment shall be pronounced at the next criminal sitting of the Court at which the convicted person appears to receive judgment.

75 Certain errors not to avoid conviction

A conviction cannot be set aside upon the ground of the improper admission of evidence if it appears to the Court that the evidence was merely of a formal character or not material, nor upon the ground of the improper admission of evidence adduced for the defence.

76 Appeal from arrest of judgment

- (1) This section applies if a Court, other than:
 - (a) the Federal Court of Australia; or
 - (b) the Supreme Court of a Territory (other than the Australian Capital Territory or the Northern Territory);convicts an accused person on indictment for an offence against the laws of the Commonwealth.

 - (a) a Full Court of the High Court; or
 - (b) a Full Court of the Supreme Court of the same State or Territory as the trial court.
- (2) On the hearing of the case the Full Court may affirm or reverse the order arresting judgment. If the order is reversed the Court shall direct that judgment be pronounced upon the offender, and he or she shall be ordered to appear at such time and place as the Court directs to receive judgment, and an issuing officer (within the meaning of Part IAA of the Crimes Act 1914) may issue a warrant for the arrest of the offender.
- (3) An offender so arrested may be admitted to bail by order of the Court which may be made in Court or in Chambers, at the time when the order directing judgment to be pronounced is made or afterwards.

77 No other appeal

Except as aforesaid, and except in the case of error apparent on the face of the proceedings, an appeal shall not without the special leave of the High Court be brought to the High Court from a judgment or sentence pronounced on the trial of a person charged with an indictable offence against the laws of the Commonwealth.

77P Interpleader

When any claim is made to property taken in execution upon process issued out of the High Court, the Marshal or a Deputy Marshal may take in the Supreme Court of the State or Territory in which the property is situated the same proceedings by way of interpleader as if the process had been issued out of that Supreme Court, and that Supreme Court and the Judges of that Supreme Court have jurisdiction to entertain and determine the matter.

77Q Discharge of property taken in execution

A seizure or attachment of property in execution upon process issued out of the High Court becomes inoperative upon the occurrence of any event by which, according to the laws of the State or Territory in which the property is situated, the seizure or attachment would become inoperative if made upon like process issued out of the Supreme Court of that State or Territory.

- (4) Where the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth or of a State institutes an appeal from a judgment given in proceedings in which the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth or the State, as the case may be, has intervened under this section, a court hearing the appeal may make such order as to costs against the Commonwealth or the State, as the case may be, as the court thinks fit.

78B Notice to Attorneys-General

- (1) Where a cause pending in a federal court including the High Court or in a court of a State or Territory involves a matter arising under the Constitution or involving its interpretation, it is the duty of the court not to proceed in the cause unless and until the court is satisfied that notice of the cause, specifying the nature of the matter has been given to the Attorneys-General of the Commonwealth and of the States, and a reasonable time has elapsed since the giving of the notice for consideration by the Attorneys-General, of the question of intervention in the proceedings or removal of the cause to the High Court.
